...a new landmark of Chaopraya River's skyline...

The tower is located on a 10 acres site in Chaopraya River on the other. The 30 storey 120,000 sq.m. Corporate office building, of which the Communications Authority of Thailand occupies entirely, is a new landmark in the city skyline.

The Telecom Tower was designed for the use of the International Telecommunication Network. Each area of the building is unique but flexible. Since the building rises on the bank of the major river, the focal point of the building is the three storeys atrium, which connects to the outdoor plaza overlooking the river. The design of the tower also includes the polished stainless steel overhang sunscreen to protect the building from the hot tropical sun.
